AppNexus Email Communications

AppNexus sends periodic emails that we think you'll find useful, including Marketing Communications (event invitations, whitepapers), Product and Technical Communications (release notes, service updates), and Training Communications (webinars, live training sessions).

- If you have an AppNexus user account, you should receive relevant communications automatically.
- If you do not have your own AppNexus user account, you can sign up to receive communications at <http://www.appnexus.com/en/subscribe>.
- If you want to stop receiving Marketing or other AppNexus communications, you can update your preferences at <http://go.appnexus.com/UnsubscribePage.html>.
